

THE APPRENTICESHIP LEVY

What is it?

In April 2017 the Government introduced an Apprenticeship Levy. The Levy will raise up to £2.8bn per year which will be used to pay for training in companies across the UK.

Alongside the Levy, the way in which Apprenticeship standards are designed and used by employers is changing. The aim is to make Apprenticeships simpler and more relevant to the skills needed by business.

Will my company be affected?

The Levy will be charged at a rate of 0.5% of an employer's pay bill. A £15,000 allowance for employers will mean that the levy will only be paid on pay bills over £3 million.

For example;

Company A

- Annual Pay Bill = £4,500,000
- 0.5% Levy = £22,500.00
- Less £15,000 Allowance
- Cost To Company = £7,500 per year.

Company B

- Annual Pay Bill = £2,400,000
- 0.5% Levy = £12,000.00
- Less £15,000 Allowance
- Cost To Company = Nil as Levy total is covered by allowance.

What do I need to do if I am required to pay the levy?

The Levy and any allowance due will be calculated monthly and collected as part of the HMRC RTI Return (in the same way as Employers NI). The Government will also pay a 10% Top Up on your Levy contributions. This means you will get 110% of what you pay in.

But you need to consider how you can maximise your investment. By talking to our Brokers we can help you plan effectively to ensure you get the full return wat you pay alongside improving the skills of your business.

I'm a small company, so I won't be paying the Levy

You will still benefit though. Small & medium sized employers who don't pay the levy will get a 95% Government subsidy towards the Apprentice training costs. So, for just a 5% contribution, we will create a customised programme to recruit, train and assess staff that bring bottom line benefits to your business.
